

The Refractive Thinker® Press

Spring 2014 Author's Call

Good morning colleagues:

Come join us for the next edition of the award winning series: The Refractive Thinker®!

With the popularity of our 9-time award winning series, we will be offering the next volume for Summer 2014 publication, The Refractive Thinker®: Volume VIII: Effective Business Practices for Motivation and Communication.

With the global reach of The Refractive Thinker® Family, please forward this email and invite your colleagues and doctoral graduates to submit their abstracts via email (bronwynp@caboodle-marketing.com) for consideration.

We will begin accepting abstracts beginning October 9, 2013. There is space for only 14 chapters (which may be co-authored). We will be having 2 live presentations for additional information: October 9th at 7 AM PST and 5:30 PM PST. Please email for log in details.

The Refractive Thinker® is a doctoral anthology series where contributing authors offer a chapter summary of their doctoral research for publication in one volume. We provide book a physical book, e-Book and e-Chapters. See our website for additional details.

This publication includes a Peer Review Board with both a content editor and an editor who specializes in APA format (6th version) for review.

Our business model is very simple as participating authors share the (a) expense of publication, as well as (b) promotion. Will you be in the next edition? Come join us!

Thank you for sharing with your networks. Cheers!

Cheryl
